A BIG DEATH LIST.

Exact Number of Victims of Cyclone at New Richmond Not Known.

Latest Estimates Say That It Will Reach at Least One Hundred and Fifty.

Many Dismembered and Charred Bodies Will Never Be Recognized.

Fire Adds Its Horrors to the Desolate Scene—Relief Arrives from Many Points.

Tornado Destroys All But Two Buildings at Herman, Neb.—A Large Number of Persons Killed.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 14.—The Times says: There are well up to 150 dead in and about New Richmond. Of these only about 90 in New Richmond will be recognized, for the reason that the fire has charred their bodies. They could not be examined Tuesday, as the fire was still burning, and it was impossible to enter the houses. Relief trains will be sent from Minneapolis to-day, and the Minneapolis board of trade has requested the New Richmond officials to draw on them for $2,000. This is simply a beginning of the relief fund. The millers have said they would give a lot of flour.

From the Stricken Town.
New Richmond, Wis., June 14.—The tornado that has swept out of existence the prosperous little city of New Richmond is the most disastrous in point of fatality ever occurring in this section. The exact number of dead is still unknown, but it will certainly reach 100, and very probably will considerably exceed that figure. As they were recovered the bodies were brought to the schoolhouse or to the Catholic or Congregational churches. Thence they are to be taken to the cemetery, except in a few cases, where homes still stood, in which the remains can be kept for a few hours, during which the final tribute of love could be tendered by the bereaved families. The bodies were prepared for burial by local and visiting undertakers, and as soon as identified were marked and disposed of as their friends requested.

Rendered Great Assistance.
Nurses and physicians from St. Paul, who had come down by special train on the Omaha road as soon as news of the disaster reached the Minnesota capital, were of great help, all night and day, and when the day closed all the seriously injured were believed to have been cared for. Those whose injuries were serious, but whose chances for recovery were believed to be good, were quickly sent to the hospitals of St. Paul and Minneapolis, where better care can be given them. The slightly injured and those whose cases seem hopeless were kept here and were given the best attention possible. The list of dead is gradually increasing during the day, and Tuesday night it seemed that 100 might be the minimum estimate of the dead, while the list of the injured will reach and perhaps exceed 200.

Finding the Dead.
During the afternoon Patrick Kating, the 14-year-old son of Nat Kating, was brought to the Catholic church. The body was horribly mangled. A little daughter of a Mr. Williams was brought to the same place from the ruins of her father's home near the railroad tracks. Walter Farrell, a boy, was also laid among the dead in that church. Pat McNally, who was injured, died during the day, and at a late hour Tuesday afternoon the rescuers gathered together most of the pieces of the mangled body of Michael Heffron, and he was added to the list of dead. During the day scattered groups of rescuers searched the debris where bodies might be found.

Fire Adds Its Horrors.
A fire company kept two streams of water pouring on the smoldering ruins, blocked, washed away or so overflowed as to be made entirely unrecognizable. A circus was in town Monday, and people had come in from all the surrounding country to see the show. After the circus the people had crowded into the city to do their shopping before going home in the evening. It was at this time the storm cloud came up from the southwest. The circus grounds were outside the path of the storm, but the people, being in the business places, fell a prey to the terrific wind.

Help Arrives.
As soon as the news of the disaster had reached the outside world offers of help and help itself began to come into the city. St. Paul, being the railroad center to which New Richmond was tributary, was first to learn of the storm and its attendant woes, and within two or three hours sent the first relief train with physicians, nurses, hospital supplies and commissary stores for the people of the stricken city. A second and a third train soon followed, and speedily neighboring cities in Wisconsin sent in all they could gather for their needy sister city. The Omaha and the Wisconsin Central roads promptly carried through all the supplies and delivered them to relief headquarters, whence they were delivered to the people of the city. Congressman J. J. Jenkin, of this district, arrived early on the scene and promptly advised Gov. Scofield of the situation and the need of relief. The Western Union Telegraph company notified the mayor that all messages relating to relief and the needs of the stricken city would be carried out free. Hundreds of morbidly curious people from neighboring cities thronged the ruined town Tuesday and crowded about those whose hearts had been wrung with anguish.

A Scene of Desolation.
The desolate view of the New Richmond of to-day is one not soon to be forgotten. Along the broken fragments of their homes the people wander helplessly, striving somewhat aimlessly and hopelessly to gather together what had been left to them. On the east and west limits of the city many houses were still standing with little or no damage, and to these homes the occupants welcomed their less fortunate neighbors and friends, giving them such aid as was possible and the sympathy that are so much to stricken souls. The property list cannot be estimated at this time, and may never be accurately known. It was almost total, for the insurance agents report that no tornado insurance was carried in the town and only a small number of places where fire joined in the destruction of property will the business men be at all reimbursed for their losses. A hurried list places the number of buildings destroyed at 133.

Estimate of the Dead.
It is the average resident of New Richmond who estimates the loss of life most seriously. They claim that hundreds are missing who were buried in the ruins and there incinerated. One such is C. A. Nelson, who owned the Columbian restaurant, located on Main street. His estimate of the loss is 400 dead. He says that when the rainstorm, which preceded the cyclone, broke, not less than 20 persons rushed into his place for shelter. He is positive that not more than four besides himself escaped.

In the Congregational church, 15 bodies were laid out on the seats, and through the aisles a throng surged in search of their dead. The young women of the church rendered ready assistance in caring for the dead and relieving the sufferings of the wounded. At the Catholic church, a similar scene was enacted. Here a dozen bodies were laid out, and some of them were awaiting identification. At noon several other corpses were added to those already there. In John Glidden's family only one escaped injury. The family was in the living rooms over the store on Main street when the storm struck. Mrs. John Glidden was killed. Mr. Glidden, John Glidden, Jr.; Mary, aged 24; Charles, aged 16; and Ella, aged 10, were all seriously hurt. Mary was carried a block from the house and alighted at the edge of the mill pond. Many bodies are thought to be in this pond.

Appeals for Help.
Milwaukee, June 14.—The following telegram has just been received from Congressman John J. Jenkins from New Richmond, Wis., addressed to the governor and chamber of commerce: "The city wiped out by storm. Every business building and contents and over half the dwellings and contents total loss. Many hundred dwellings and contents partly injured. Over 100 wounded. Forty dead bodies, many missing and ruins burning. Local people making heroic efforts and giving freely of what little they have left. They can be furnished for a short the county seat, ten miles distant, for the scene of the disaster, carrying surgeons and all needed supplies. Wires are all down north of Herman and it is not known how much farther north the storm went, but reports are coming in to the effect that a large portion of country north of Herman is laid waste. The entire eastern portion of Nebraska is being swept by a terrific rain, wind and electric storm. The streets of Omaha are flooded.

Additional details are dribbling in concerning the tornado at Herman. Advice received by the Bee up to 11 o'clock Tuesday night state that every building in the town is destroyed except the public school and a small dwelling, both of which are on the outskirts. The force of the wind was terrific, as scarce one piece of any of the many structures destroyed was left intact. The scene in the streets of the once thriving and beautiful little town is one of destruction. Wrecked buildings and broken furniture scarce recognizable in its dilapidated condition are strewn all around, while dead bodies lie in many places, the corpses badly disfigured and some of them hardly recognizable. The moans of the injured mingle with the calls of the rescuers as they pursue their humanitarian task in the darkness by the flickering gleams of lanterns. The relief train from Blair arrived about an hour after the storm, and the work of picking up the wounded was begun. Willing hands did what they could to help the injured, and in the course of an hour the train pulled out for Blair with 95 injured on board. They were taken to Blair, as there is absolutely no place left at Herman at which treatment can be administered.

All the citizens of Blair have thrown open their houses to the wounded, and the unfortunates are being cared for by competent surgeons. Many of the injured will die, but some of them received but slight injuries. It is impossible at this hour, owing to the confusion, to ascertain the number of dead, but 12 are known to have been killed, and the list will run very much higher.

RUIN AT OTHER POINTS.
Great Damage by the Storm Reported from Many Places.

Barron, Wis., June 14.—This city and surrounding country was on Monday night visited by a severe tornado which did untold damage. The storm came up about seven o'clock and for several minutes was watched with fearful apprehension. The scene was awful to behold. The storm started by a cloud-burst, which drenched everything. Churches, mills, residences and business blocks were wholly or partially damaged. The dwelling of W. P. Howard was turned over on its side. Mrs. Howard was injured so that her recovery is doubtful. Mr. Howard received slight injuries. The electric light and telephone wires are down. Up to four o'clock no casualties were reported. Thousands of trees were uprooted, and the aggregate loss will amount to a great deal.

In St. Croix County, Wis.
Minneapolis, Minn., June 14.—A special to the Tribune from Hudson, Wis., says: The cyclone which passed through St. Croix county Monday night beggars all description. No account is exaggerated. Wherever it passed the buildings are completely destroyed. At Boardman the farm buildings of Mrs. Kate Heffron are destroyed and Mrs. Heffron killed.

The storm center seemed to strike the farm buildings of Mr. Spencer and Mrs. Hurd. The buildings were numerous and well protected by large elm shade trees, but it can hardly be imagined now that it was ever used for such a purpose. There is scarcely a board a foot long to be found anywhere near, and the trees that were not torn out of the ground look like some old timber slashings, the bark being completely twisted off them. Mr. Spencer and family were in the cellar and escaped with slight injuries, but not so at Mrs. Hurd's. She was killed, with a little girl that was stopping with her. A man named Neige, from Deer Park, who drove in for the storm to pass, was also killed. Dead horses and stock are to be seen everywhere in the line of the storm.

Pension Decision.
Washington, June 14.—The commissioner of pensions has rendered a decision that the receipt of a municipal pension by widows of firemen, policemen and other municipal employees does not vitiate their right to a federal pension. The ground taken is that the municipal pension is a gratuity and not a vested right.

A FURIOUS BATTLE.

Hottest Engagement of the War Fought Near Las Pinas.

BIG FORCE OF REBELS ENCOUNTERED.

By Desperate Fighting Two Companies of Infantry Cut Their Way Through Insurgent Lines—Warships Engaged.

Manila, June 14.—Gen. Lawton unexpectedly stirred up one of the liveliest engagements of the war south of Las Pinas Tuesday morning, upon which occasion American field guns were engaged in the first artillery duel against a Filipino battery concealed in the jungle.

Companies F and I of the Twenty-first infantry, were nearly surrounded by a large body of insurgents, but the Americans cut their way out with heavy loss.

Warships in Action.

The United States turrets ship Monadnock and the gunboats Helena and Zafiro trained their batteries on Bacoor and the rebel trenches near Las Pinas all the morning. Bacoor was once on fire, but the natives stopped the spread of the flames.

During the night an insurgent cannon was fired three times at the Americans on the outskirts of Las Pinas.

Gen. Lawton Tuesday morning took a battalion of the Fourteenth regiment and two companies of the Twenty-first regiment to locate the rebel battery, and two guns of the Sixth artillery and four mountain guns were planted against it at 600 yards distance. The rebels had a large gun from which they

Manila and Moquito then proceeded to dismount the gun.

After breakfast the rebels opened fire along the beach to Bacoor.

After silencing the big gun at Cavite Viejo the gunboats ran close along the shore, bombarding the rebel position.

The rebels replied with rifle fire and with the fire of some small pieces of artillery. So vigorous was the enemy's fire that at 9:20 a. m. the gunboat Helena joined the small gunboats already named and the Princeton, Monterey and Monadnock, from their anchorages, dropped occasional big shells among the rebels. This, apparently, only served to incite the rebels, as they kept up an incessant fire of musketry and artillery near the mouth of the Zapote river, two miles north of Bacoor.

Concentrate the Fire.

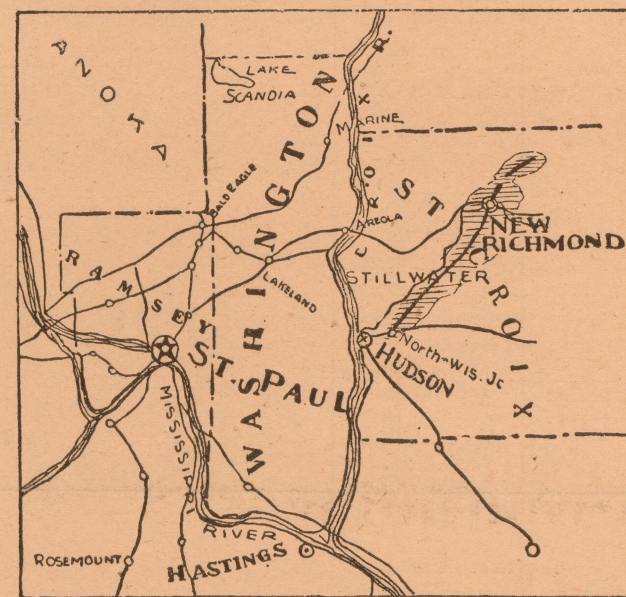

The fire of all seven warships was concentrated on this point shortly after noon, when the upper bay presented the appearance of being the scene of a great naval battle. The insurgents were eventually forced to abandon their guns after holding out for about four hours, only to be confronted by Gen. Lawton's force on land and in the rear, where there was heavy fighting.

Beyond the destruction of several buildings along the water front, the effect of the bombardment is not known.

Got Them on the Run.

Washington, June 14.—The following cablegram has been received from Gen. Otis:

Manila, June 13.—Adjutant General, Washington: Lawton's troops had severe engagement to-day with enemy in strong entrenchments at crossing Zapote river near Bacoor, Cavite province, has driven enemy with heavy loss; our casualties some thirty. Insurgents in this southern section not moved until threatened attack in strong force on Manila; now scattered and in retreat; doubtful if they make further stand. (Signed) "OTIS."

PARTS OF WISCONSIN AND MINNESOTA VISITED BY MONDAY'S STORM.

were firing home-made canister, loaded with nails, and smaller guns.

Shooting Most Accurate.

Their shooting was most accurate. The first lot of canister burst directly in front of Scott's guns and another shattered the legs of a private in the Fourteenth infantry. Several shots struck the edge of the town.

The country traversed was as bad as it is possible to imagine, being mainly lagoons, mud and water fringed with bamboos. As soon as the fighting opened the Americans were attacked by hidden riflemen on all sides, even the Amigos, or "friendly" natives, in the houses of the town shooting into their rear.

Caught in a Trap.

A company of the Twenty-first regiment, skirmishing along the beach with Amigo guides, found, apparently, a handful of rebels, who retreated. The men of the Twenty-first followed and, suddenly, the rebels opened a terrific fire on the troops from the sides and rear. The soldiers withdrew to the water's edge, finding what shelter they could, and were picked off rapidly.

After their ammunition was nearly exhausted, the companies of the Twenty-first retreated, but Gen. Lawton dashed down and rallied the men.

A Desperate Stand.

A little group made a desperate stand. Gen. Lawton, Maj. Starr and Lieuts. Donovan and Sonnelly taking rifles from the wounded men and firing at the enemy, bringing down some of the rebel sharpshooters from a tree. Finally their cartridges were all gone and they were forced to break through the enemy's flank, carrying the wounded to the main body of the troops.

Rumor of Luna's Assassination.

Manila, June 14.—Information, believed to be reliable, has reached here of the assassination of Gen. Luna and his aide-de-camp, Lieut. Pasco Ramon, June 8, by Aguinaldo's guard at the headquarters of Aguinaldo.

Luna and Ramon, it appears, went to the Filipino headquarters to confer with Aguinaldo, got into an altercation with the captain of the guard and one of them drew a revolver. The guard then killed Luna and Ramon with their bayonets.

DECLINED TO ACCEPT.

M. Poincare Is Offered the Premiership by President Loubet But Refuses the Honor.

Paris, June 14.—The air is full of reports regarding the probable successor of M. Dupuy as premier. M. Poincare was the favorite Tuesday morning, but after three-quarters of an hour spent in conference with the president he declined to accept the task. He is a moderate republican, and evidently doubted he would be able to succeed in forming a cabinet, which the papers think, after Monday's vote, must be a radical cabinet.

M. Poincare has been asked by M. Loubet to return to the Elysee palace this morning, when it is expected a definite proposal will be made to him to construct a cabinet. It is said that M. Delcasse insists on retaining the foreign office portfolio rather than accepting that of the interior, and that M. Bourgeois prefers continuing a member of the French delegation at the Hague to accepting a cabinet post.

Fire Adds Its Horrors to the Desolate Scene—Relief Arrives from Many Points.

Tornado Destroys All But Two Buildings at Herman, Neb.—A Large Number of Persons Killed.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 14.—The Times says: There are well up to 150 dead in and about New Richmond. Of these only about 90 in New Richmond will be recognized, for the reason that the fire has charred their bodies. They could not be examined Tuesday, as the fire was still burning, and it was impossible to enter the houses. Relief trains will be sent from Minneapolis to-day, and the Minneapolis board of trade has requested the New Richmond officials to draw on them for $2,000. This is simply a beginning of the relief fund. The millers have said they would give a lot of flour.

From the Stricken Town.

New Richmond, Wis., June 14.—The tornado that has swept out of existence the prosperous little city of New Richmond is the most disastrous in point of fatality ever occurring in this section. The exact number of dead is still unknown, but it will certainly reach 100, and very probably will considerably exceed that figure. As they were recovered the bodies were brought to the schoolhouse or to the Catholic or Congregational churches. Thence they are to be taken to the cemetery, except in a few cases, where homes still stood, in which the remains can be kept for a few hours, during which the final tribute of love could be tendered by the bereaved families. The bodies were prepared for burial by local and visiting undertakers, and as soon as identified were marked and disposed of as their friends requested.

Rendered Great Assistance.

Nurses and physicians from St. Paul, who had come down by special train on the Omaha road as soon as news of the disaster reached the Minnesota capital, were of great help, all night and day, and when the day closed all the seriously injured were believed to have been cared for. Those whose injuries were serious, but whose chances for recovery were believed to be good, were quickly sent to the hospitals of St. Paul and Minneapolis, where better care can be given them. The slightly injured and those whose cases seem hopeless were kept here and were given the best attention possible. The list of dead is gradually increasing during the day, and Tuesday night it seemed that 100 might be the minimum estimate of the dead, while the list of the injured will reach and perhaps exceed 200.

Finding the Dead.

During the afternoon Patrick Kating, the 14-year-old son of Nat Kating, was brought to the Catholic church. The body was horribly mangled. A little daughter of a Mr. Williams was brought to the same place from the ruins of her father's home near the railroad tracks. Walter Farrell, a boy, was also laid out among the dead in that church. Pat McNally, who was injured, died during the day, and at a late hour Tuesday afternoon the rescuers gathered together most of the pieces of the mangled body of Michael Heffron, and he was added to the list of dead. During the day scattered groups of rescuers searched the debris where bodies might be found.

Fire Adds Its Horrors.

A fire company kept two streams of water pouring on the smoldering ruins, for fire had been added to the horrors of the tornado, and a dozen fires were blazing till a heavy rain at the close of the day extinguished the flames. Some of the merchants organized a salvage corps and managed to save some property, but the amount was small.

The Ruined City.

The business portion of the city covered a space of four squares each way and was solidly built of brick and stone. This entire space was swept clear, foundation walls and in some places masses of debris alone marking where the business places formerly stood. Trees that had lined the streets of the neighboring residence district were broken clear off and twisted and uprooted. The tornado came up the river from Hudson, where the damage was comparatively slight. Following the general course of the river and the branch of the Omaha road, the storm gained in intensity as it progressed and was at its worst when it struck the business center of New Richmond. Outlying residences in the path of the storm were stripped of shingles and boards or sides were blown off, or, as more frequently happened, were torn asunder and the fragments were scattered to the four winds of heaven. Trees were uprooted and roadways destroyed. Wrecked buildings and the people of the stricken city. A second and a third train soon followed, and speedily neighboring cities in Wisconsin sent in all they could gather for their needy sister city. The Omaha and the Wisconsin Central roads promptly carried through all the supplies and delivered them to relief headquarters, whence they were delivered to the people of the city. Congressman J. J. Jenkin, of this district, arrived early on the scene and promptly advised Gov. Scofield of the situation and the need of relief. The Western Union Telegraph company notified the mayor that all messages relating to relief and the needs of the stricken city would be carried out free. Hundreds of morbidly curious people from neighboring cities thronged the ruined town Tuesday and crowded about those whose hearts had been wrung with anguish.

A Scene of Desolation.

The desolate view of the New Richmond of to-day is one not soon to be forgotten. Along the broken fragments of their homes the people wander helplessly, striving somewhat aimlessly and hopelessly to gather together what had been left to them. On the east and west limits of the city many houses were still standing with little or no damage, and to these homes the occupants welcomed their less fortunate neighbors and friends, giving them such aid as was possible and the sympathy that are so much to stricken souls. The property list cannot be estimated at this time, and may never be accurately known. It was almost total, for the insurance agents report that no tornado insurance was carried in the town and only a small number of places where fire joined in the destruction of property will the business men be at all reimbursed for their losses. A hurried list places the number of buildings destroyed at 133.

Estimate of the Dead.

It is the average resident of New Richmond who estimates the loss of life most seriously. They claim that hundreds are missing who were buried in the ruins and there incinerated. One such is C. A. Nelson, who owned the Columbian restaurant, located on Main street. His estimate of the loss is 400 dead. He says that when the rainstorm, which preceded the cyclone, broke, not less than 20 persons rushed into his place for shelter. He is positive that not more than four besides himself escaped.

In the Congregational church, 15 bodies were laid out on the seats, and through the aisles a throng surged in search of their dead. The young women of the church rendered ready assistance in caring for the dead and relieving the sufferings of the wounded. At the Catholic church, a similar scene was enacted. Here a dozen bodies were laid out, and some of them were awaiting identification. At noon several other corpses were added to those already there. In John Glidden's family only one escaped injury. The family was in the living rooms over the store on Main street when the storm struck. Mrs. John Glidden was killed. Mr. Glidden, John Glidden, Jr.; Mary, aged 24; Charles, aged 16, and Ella, aged 10, were all seriously hurt. Mary was carried a block from the house and alighted at the edge of the mill pond. Many bodies are thought to be in this pond.

Appeals for Help.

Milwaukee, June 14.—The following telegram has just been received from Congressman John J. Jenkins from New Richmond, Wis., addressed to the governor and chamber of commerce:

"The city wiped out by storm. Every business building and contents and over half the dwellings and contents total loss. Many hundred dwellings and contents partly injured. Over 100 wounded. Forty dead bodies, many missing and ruins burning. Local people making heroic efforts and giving freely of what little they have left. They can be furnished for a short time, but with few exceptions no food or clothing. Not an article of goods, wares or merchandise left by noon. There will not be a mouthful to eat; must have immediate relief; will require aid for some time. Not a coffin or article to bury the dead. Practically destitution prevails. Will you notify the public and ask them that aid be forwarded as soon as possible."

Gov. Scofield's Proclamation.

Madison, Wis., June 14.—Gov. Scofield Tuesday issued a proclamation calling upon the people of Wisconsin to come to the aid of the calamity-stricken people at New Richmond. The supplies or money collected should be sent as promptly as possible to Maj. M. R. Doyon, at New Richmond, whom the governor has appointed to take charge of relief until local committees are able to do it.

WHOLE TOWN DESTROYED.

Tornado Leaves But Two Buildings in Herman, Neb.—Many Killed.

Omaha, Neb., June 14.—The tornado that struck the village of Herman Tuesday evening wrought fearful destruction. A conductor on the evening train from Sioux City passed through the place not long after the storm, and he says not a building is left standing in town. He counted 12 dead bodies lying in the streets. The fatalities will undoubtedly run up to a hundred, if not higher. A special train left Blair, the village. Companies F and I of the Twenty-first infantry, were nearly surrounded by a large body of insurgents, but the Americans cut their way out with heavy loss.

In St. Croix County, Wis.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 14.—A special to the Tribune from Hudson, Wis., says: The cyclone which passed through St. Croix county Monday night beggars all description. No account is exaggerated. Wherever it passed the buildings are completely destroyed. At Boardman the farm buildings of Mrs. Kate Heffron are destroyed and Mrs. Heffron killed.

The storm center seemed to strike the farm buildings of Mr. Spencer and Mrs. Hurd. The buildings were numerous and well protected by large elm shade trees, but it can hardly be imagined now that it was ever used for such a purpose. There is scarcely a board a foot long to be found anywhere near, and the trees that were not torn out of the ground look like some old timber slashings, the bark being completely twisted off them. Mr. Spencer and family were in the cellar and escaped with slight injuries, but not so at Mrs. Hurd's. She was killed, with a little girl that was stopping with her. A man named Neige, from Deer Park, who drove in for the storm to pass, was also killed. Dead horses and stock are to be seen everywhere in the line of the storm.

Pension Decision.

Washington, June 14.—The commissioner of pensions has rendered a decision that the receipt of a municipal pension by widows of firemen, policemen and other municipal employees does not vitiate their right to a federal pension. The ground taken is that the municipal pension is a gratuity and not a vested right.

Loubet's Assailant Sentenced.

Paris, June 14.—Baron Christiani, who assaulted President Loubet with a cane at the Auteuil races, June 4, was sentenced Tuesday to four years' imprisonment.

Fraud Unearthed.

Quincy, Ill., June 14.—Some scandal was created Tuesday by a report of the committee of the board of supervisors investigating the burial of paupers. They found 27 bodies missing for whose burial the county had paid. In some cases rough pine boxes filled with stones were found when the graves were opened. The undertakers sold the bodies to medical colleges and buried dry goods boxes for coffins.

Noted Surgeon Dead.

London, June 14.—Dr. Lawson Tait, the pioneer of abdominal surgery, died Tuesday, in his fifty-first year.

the jungle. Companies F and I of the Twenty-first infantry, were nearly surrounded by a large body of insurgents, but the Americans cut their way out with heavy loss.

Warships in Action.

The United States turretship Monadnock and the gunboats Helena and Zafiro trained their batteries on Bacoor and the rebel trenches near Las Pinas all the morning. Bacoor was once on fire, but the natives stopped the spread of the flames.

During the night an insurgent cannon was fired three times at the Americans on the outskirts of Las Pinas.

Gen. Lawton Tuesday morning took a battalion of the Fourteenth regiment and two companies of the Twenty-first regiment to locate the rebel battery, and two guns of the Sixth artillery and four mountain guns were planted against it at 600 yards distance. The rebels had a large gun from which they were firing home-made canister, loaded with nails, and smaller guns.

Shooting Most Accurate.

Their shooting was most accurate. The first lot of canister burst directly in front of Scott's guns and another shattered the legs of a private in the Fourteenth infantry. Several shots struck the edge of the town.

The country traversed was as bad as it is possible to imagine, being mainly lagoons, mud and water fringed with bamboos. As soon as the fighting opened the Americans were attacked by hidden riflemen on all sides, even the Amigos, or "friendly" natives, in the houses of the town shooting into their rear.

Caught in a Trap.

A company of the Twenty-first regiment, skirmishing along the beach with Amigo guides, found, apparently, a handful of rebels, who retreated. The men of the Twenty-first followed and, suddenly, the rebels opened a terrific fire on the troops from the sides and rear. The soldiers withdrew to the water's edge, finding what shelter they could, and were picked off rapidly.

After their ammunition was nearly exhausted, the companies of the Twenty-first retreated, but Gen. Lawton dashed down and rallied the men.

A Desperate Stand.

A little group made a desperate stand, Gen. Lawton, Maj. Starr and Lieuts. Donovan and Sonnelly taking rifles from the wounded men and firing at the enemy, bringing down some of the rebel sharpshooters from a tree. Finally their cartridges were all gone and they were forced to break through the enemy's flank, carrying the wounded to the main body of the troops.

Lieut. Donovan, whose leg was broken, floundered for a mile through a bog after leading his men in the face of a greatly superior force.

Wait for Reinforcements.

Gen. Lawton ceased fighting until reinforcements could be brought up. Two battalions of the Fourteenth regiment and one battalion of the Ninth regiment were hurried to the front, and in the afternoon the battle was resumed.

The Monadnock anchored close to the shore and her heavy guns pounded the rebels continuously, while the smaller warships, steaming along the shore, poured bullets from their rapid-fire guns at the enemy.

The Filipino force engaged appears to have been the largest and best organized body of men which has met our troops.

The Americans are compelled to advance along narrow roads and over small bridges commanded by earthworks ten feet thick.

Gunboats in Action.

Manila, June 14.—At daylight to-day the rebels at Cavite Viejo dropped two shells from a big smooth-bore gun mounted in front of the church in the navy yard. The only damage done was splintering the top of the huge shears on the mole. The gunboats Callao, when the upper bay presented the appearance of being the scene of a great naval battle. The insurgents were eventually forced to abandon their guns after holding out for about four hours, only to be confronted by Gen. Lawton's force on land and in the rear, where there was heavy fighting.

Beyond the destruction of several buildings along the water front, the effect of the bombardment is not known.

Got Them on the Run.

Washington, June 14.—The following cablegram has been received from Gen. Otis:

"Manila, June 13.—Adjutant General, Washington: Lawton's troops had severe engagement to-day with enemy in strong entrenchments at crossing Zapote river near Bacoor, Cavite province, has driven enemy with heavy loss; our casualties some thirty. Insurgents in this southern section not molested until threatened attack in strong force on Manila; now scattered and in retreat; doubtful if they make further stand."

Maybe the Hon. Andrew J. Sawyer would make the Philippines a penal colony and thereby abolish the state prison at Jackson, so that the Hon. William McKinley Judson can not get that wardenship.

England is hesitating about going to war with the Boers. The difficulty which the United States army is experiencing in subduing the Filipinos is probably giving the so-called mother country an object lesson.

Secretary of State Stearns reports that there were 2,500 deaths in Michigan in May, a decrease of 375 from the number returned for the previous month. The death rate for May was 12.9 per 1,000 population, as compared with 15.6 for April. There were 410 deaths of infants under one year old, 174 of children between 1 and 4 years of age, and 676 of persons 65 years old and over.

"How did the Filipino army happen to appear before the gates of Manila? Dispatches from the seat of war having been informing us that the Filipinos were scattered in all directions. Probably the truth of the matter is that the United States troops were driven back at the battle of Manila. Prof. Steere, of this city, predicted several months ago that the Americans could never subdue the Filipinos, that they could keep up the war indefinitely.

MRS. SINDLINGER MEETS WITH A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Last evening, between 7 and 8 o'clock, a farmer by the name of Burkhardt, who lives west of town, was driving south on Ashley st., on a hay rack, behind which was hitched a buggy. The horses became suddenly frightened and dashed down the hill near the Ann Arbor depot, bounding over the railroad track at a break-neck speed. Hitched to a post on S. Ashley st. was a horse and buggy, in which were two people, Mrs. J. Sindlinger and a child. The runaway showed no sign of stopping, and when it reached the vehicle it smashed into it, breaking the buggy to pieces and throwing the occupants violently to the ground, one of the horses falling on Mrs. Sindlinger, seriously injuring her. The child, her nephew, fortunately escaped with a few bruises. Dr. Klingman was summoned and attended the unfortunate woman. He reports this morning that Mrs. Sindlinger is not so badly injured as expected. No bones were broken, the injuries being internal.

SENIORS GET THE CANNON.

IT IS ONE OF THE PRIZES CAPTURED IN THE WAR.

BILLY JUDSON'S INFLUENCE SECURES IT FOR THEM.

That Gov. Pingree is one of the greatest friends to the University of any governor who ever occupied the executive chair, is being demonstrated every day, and that the University has a man in the person of plain, every day "Billy" Judson, who always strikes for the right thing for the institution at the right time, now goes without saying.

We have the evidence of Dr. Copeland that at a critical time Billy Judson appeared before His Excellency and insisted on his signature to the one-fourth mill tax bill. Gov. Pingree, despite of his wishes to cut down all expenditures possible, affixed his name to the bill and made it a law.

This alone was sufficient to make everyone, who has the interest of Ann Arbor and the U. of M. at heart, feel most kindly to Pingree and Judson.

When the senior lits decided upon trying to get one of the captured cannon of the last Spanish war for a memorial to be placed upon the campus, it was thought that the chances were small on account of what had already been done for the University. It will be remembered that the secretary of war decided that Michigan's allotment would be four cannon, and they would be sent wherever directed by Gov. Pingree.

Through The Times, Billy Judson offered his services to the senior lits to see if the governor could be induced to send one to Ann Arbor. The '99 men were extremely fortunate in getting his influence, and yesterday Mr. Judson made a special trip to Lansing for the purpose. How well he accomplished what he set out to do is best shown by the following telegram received by The Times today:

Lansing, Mich., June 14, 1899.
Evening Times, Ann Arbor, Mich.:
We get the cannon. Tell the boys at the University.
WM. JUDSON.

If the senior lits, after this, do not make William McKinley Judson an honorary member of the class, or show their appreciativeness in some way, they, like republics, will be ungrateful.

PHILIPPINE WAR MAY LAST TWO YEARS, SAYS PROF. STEERE.

It will be remembered that when the Philippine war first broke out, Prof. J. B. Steere, who spent some time in that country, announced that the United States would have considerable trouble in subduing the natives, as, under the conditions of the climate, they could not be starved or froze into submission the way the American Indians are. Said he today: "I think what I said then is coming true. The longer this war lasts the more fierce are its battles. Those fellows are brave and strong, and are fighting for just what you or I would. They were patriots when fighting the Spanish, but now they are rebels. I think this war may last ten years yet. It looks that way now."

ZEITZ QUILTS THE SCHOOL.

TROUBLE WHICH HAS BEEN BREWING IS NOW ENDED.

ZEITZ GETS MONEY AND A RECOMMENDATION.

The trouble among the faculty of the University School of Music, which has been brewing for some time, and which was precipitated a few days ago by an altercation between Prof. Jonas and Prof. Zeitz, has now been concluded.

With the feeling that was present, the directors of the School of Music did not look forward to a very successful year, and it became only a question as with whom the school could get along best without. The school is quite a large one, but not big enough to hold both Jonas and Zeitz, and Jonas had the biggest reputation. And that is why Jonas remains and Zeitz goes.

When the episode of a few days ago came to the ears of the directors, there was a hurried meeting, and it was decided to get a divorce between Prof. Zeitz and the school. But the contracts for the coming year had just been signed during the previous week, and Prof. Zeitz was in a position to fling defiance in the faces of the directors the document that bound them. Then they offered him $150 to annul the contract.

In the meantime Mr. Zeitz had been to see his attorneys, who advised him that not only could the board be held for his next year's pay, but that an action would lie against those who hired him to conduct the Choral union during the absence of Prof. Stanley, and that the latter had always received $400 or $500 for the work.

An earnest consultation was held last evening and this morning, and the result is that the board gives Mr. Zeitz a comfortable money consideration, the amount of which cannot be learned, and a strong recommendation for a position elsewhere. In return, the School of Music gets his resignation.

DESPITE OF TIGHT DRESSES.

PHYSICAL CULTURE TO BE MADE COMPULSORY

FOR FIRST YEAR IN HIGH SCHOOL AND EIGHT GRADE.

The committee on teachers and text books of the school board last night recommended that $200 be voted for physical culture for students of the high school and eighth grade, with Miss Helen Bender, assistant in physical culture in the University, as instructor for two hours per day.

Every member of the board seemed heartily in accord with the idea. The first idea was to confine the instruction to the girls and the younger boys. But the sentiment of the board seemed to be so unanimous that it would be best for all, so that a line had to be drawn somewhere on account of limited facilities, and it was finally agreed that the work should be made compulsory for all students of the first year of the high school and the eighth grade, with the provision that the superintendent could use his discretion about excusing the older pupils of the classes from being included in the rule.

The idea prevailed that it was best to start in on this schedule. Said Supt. Slauson: "At the outset there will be opposition from the girls. If not, Ann Arbor will be different from other places. It is much wiser to begin small and show good results than to attempt too much and fail. The girls' dresses will not be suitable to what they will be obliged to undergo, and they will go home and complain. The result will be that their parents will want them excused."

Mr. Eberbach—"I don't see what objection there would be if this is on the line of health, unless the girls' dresses would split."

Mr. Mills—"Or unless the girls were take a position in Saginaw, and Florence Potter was appointed in her stead at a salary of $400 per year.

"OUT ON CIRCUS DAY."

Just before the close of the meeting Supt. Slauson wanted the board to be sure that if they heard that the school children were allowed a half holiday on next Monday afternoon it would not be because there is a circus in town. "The teachers have a custom of making up their reports, and it takes a good half-day. They cannot teach and make reports, or make reports and teach. It just happens that the most convenient time comes when there is a circus in town, but I would like the board to understand that it is not for that reason that school is let out."

"Let me see," said Mr. Mills jokingly, "we have let out school for the May festival and the soldiers' return. I move we let out for the circus."

It was carried.

The following are the official reports:

Upon motion of Trustee Bower, the board adjourned to meet Tuesday, June 27th, at 7:30 p. m., to consider Supt.

A GREAT REUNION

OF OLD PUPILS OF THE MISSES CLARK.

MRS. ANNA NORTH, THE FIRST SCHOLAR, WAS PRESENT.

An interesting meeting was held Tuesday afternoon at the pleasant home of Mrs. Chapin, on Kingsley st., by a number of Miss Clark's old pupils.

One of the 15 ladies present was Mrs. Anna North, who was the first scholar on hand before the door was opened at the first beginning of this school, Nov. 18th, 1839, in the "old Argus building now occupied by Miller's grocery."

After a social half hour spent in recalling old memories, some tributes to Miss Clark's character were read. Then a discussion was held as to ways and means to reach as many as possible of the scattered members of the school and give them an opportunity to contribute towards the fund to place a memorial tablet at the graves of the Misses Clark in the cemetery at Brighton, where they are buried.

TAPPAN OAK A GIBBET.

CLASS OF '99 HUNG IN EFFIGY LAST NIGHT

BY THE JUNIOR LITS AND WAR IS DECLARED.

War is declared, notwithstanding the peace congress at The Hague.

Persons going through the campus this morning were surprised to see dangling from the limbs of Tappan oak an effigy representing the class of '99, the historic old tree being used as a gibbet to carry out the animosity of the junior lits.

The figure was extremely life-like, and upon the shirt appeared in large numerals "99." Upon the right leg of the dummy was chalked, "To H—," and upon the left "With '99." The work was done by the junior lits at midnight last night.

About 9 o'clock Mr. Reeves, the custodian of buildings and grounds, discovered the lynching and, cutting the figure down, dragged it through the campus and placed it where it could not be seen.

To say that the seniors are incensed is putting it mildly, and already efforts are being made to discover the offending juniors. It is said that it will go hard with any one who is detected as having participated in the "joke," and tonight is liable to see a very merry time.

If anything is done to the juniors the latter will retaliate on Friday night, when those about to take diplomas will hold a farewell smoker.

But war is inevitable.

THE GREAT ARLIE LATHAM MAY UMPIRE THE GAMES.

For the Michigan-Cornell baseball games at Ann Arbor Friday and Grand Rapids Saturday, President Nick Young, of the National league, will supply the umpire. He has written to Graduate Manager Baird, of Michigan, that there is no National league man in the west available for the job just now, and he will have to send a man from the east. This will cost the management about $75 for umpiring two games. Arlie Latham has been doing some very satisfactory umpiring of college games the present season, and may be sent out there.

It is thought that 100 or more Detroiters will come out. The Cornell alumni in Toledo have wired that they are coming up in a body. A message from a Cornell alumnus in Chicago, Davis, who was Cornell's baseball manager in '96, says he will bring a party from there.

Risks of Telephone Speaking.

Beware of the unwashed telephone. It is a constant menace to the public health. A bacteriologist tells us that more cases of influenza have been coughed, spluttered and sneezed into the telephone, to be contracted by the next user of the instrument, than have proceeded from all other sources combined. Our informant visited several hotels, and also a number of public telephone exchanges. He carried with him some wire and clean cotton. He mounted the cotton on a piece of wire and rubbed it around the inside of the mouthpiece of the telephone receiver. These were each placed in a small bottle and carefully sealed. The first cotton ball examined revealed a multitude of the influenza bacilli, and it was so with the scrapings from all of the telephones. It is thus quite plain that the wide prevalence of the disease is partly due to the use of infected telephones. It is known that the germs are contained in the secretions, and nothing is more natural than that they should reach the receivers.—Science Signings.

A Great Planet on Exhibition.

There will be fine opportunities during the coming summer for amateurs in astronomy to view the planet Jupiter. In June Jupiter will be near the meridian, or noon line, about 9 o'clock in the evening, and no star will equal him in brilliancy. Even an opera glass will suffice to show one or more of his moons, when they are favorably situated, and a pocket telescope will occasionally show all four. An excellent opportunity of this kind will occur on the night of June 1, about 10:30 o'clock, eastern time, when two of the moons will be seen, one above the other, west of the planet, while the other two are strung out, at a greater distance, on the east side. The very next night, at the same hour, a most interesting arrangement of moons will be visible, for then all four will appear in a row east of the planet, standing in the order of their true distances from Jupiter, beginning with number one at the inner end of the row, and finishing with number four at the outer end.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, COUNTY OF WASHTENAW, ss:

Maybe the Hon. Andrew J. Sawyer would make the Philippines a penal colony and thereby abolish the state prison at Jackson, so that the Hon. William McKinley Judson can not get that wardenship.

England is hesitating about going to war with the Boers. The difficulty which the United States army is experiencing in subduing the Filipinos is probably giving the so-called mother country an object lesson.

Secretary of State Stearns reports that there were 2,500 deaths in Michigan in May, a decrease of 375 from the number returned for the previous month. The death rate for May was 12.9 per 1,000 population, as compared with 15.6 for April. There were 410 deaths of infants under one year old, 174 of children between 1 and 4 years of age, and 676 of persons 65 years old and over.

How did the Filipino army happen to appear before the gates of Manila? Dispatches from the seat of war having been informing us that the Filipinos were scattered in all directions. Probably the truth of the matter is that the United States troops were driven back at the battle of Manila. Prof. Steere, of this city, predicted several months ago that the Americans could never subdue the Filipinos, that they could keep up the war indefinitely.

SENIORS GET THE CANNON.

IT IS ONE OF THE PRIZES CAPTURED IN THE WAR.

BILLY JUDSON'S INFLUENCE SECURES IT FOR THEM.

That Gov. Pingree is one of the greatest friends to the University of any governor who ever occupied the executive chair, is being demonstrated every day, and that the University has a man in the person of plain, every day "Billy" Judson, who always strikes for the right thing for the institution at the right time, now goes without saying.

We have the evidence of Dr. Copeland that at a critical time Billy Judson appeared before His Excellency and insisted on his signature to the one-fourth mill tax bill. Gov. Pingree, despite of his wishes to cut down all expenditures possible, affixed his name to the bill and made it a law.

This alone was sufficient to make everyone, who has the interest of Ann Arbor and the U. of M. at heart, feel most kindly to Pingree and Judson.

When the senior lits decided upon trying to get one of the captured cannon of the last Spanish war for a memorial to be placed upon the campus, it was thought that the chances were small on account of what had already been done for the University. It will be remembered that the secretary of war decided that Michigan's allotment would be four cannon, and they would be sent wherever directed by Gov. Pingree.

Through The Times, Billy Judson offered his services to the senior lits to see if the governor could be induced to send one to Ann Arbor. The '99 men were extremely fortunate in getting his influence, and yesterday Mr. Judson made a special trip to Lansing for the purpose. How well he accomplished what he set out to do is best shown by the following telegram received by The Times today:

Lansing, Mich., June 14, 1899. Evening Times, Ann Arbor, Mich.: You get the cannon. Tell the boys at the University. WM. JUDSON.

If the senior lits, after this, do not make William McKinley Judson an honorary member of the class, or show their appreciativeness in some way, they, like republics, will be ungrateful.

PHILIPPINE WAR MAY LAST TWO YEARS, SAYS PROF. STEERE.

It will be remembered that when the Philippine war first broke out, Prof. J. B. Steere, who spent some time in that country, announced that the United States would have considerable trouble in subduing the natives, as, under the conditions of the climate, they could not be starved or froze into submission the way the American Indians are. Said he today: "I think what I said then is coming true. The longer this war lasts the more fierce are its battles. Those fellows are brave and strong, and are fighting for just what you or I would. They were patriots when fighting the Spanish, but now they are rebels. I think this war may last ten years yet. It looks that way now."

CLASS OF '88 WILL MAKE A NEW CUSTOM.

During commencement week this year the class of '88 is to hold a reunion here, and will inaugurate a new custom—that of holding exercises under a tent. It will be called an "'88 camp meeting," and the headquarters will be near Tappan oak.

When S. A. Moran asked Secretary Wade for the privilege of putting a tent on the campus, he said: "Yes, sir. I would like to see the time come when the campus will be sprinkled with tents for class reunions."

Making Use of Sawdust.

American and Canadian sawmills have discovered that the sawdust which they have been perplexed how to rid themselves of as a worthless incumbrance is worth $40 per ton. A chemist in Baltimore has invented a process of extracting gas from the sawdust adequate to supply a city like Ottawa with light and heat at 10 cents per 1,000 feet. This is thought to portend that around the great sawmills which have been emptying their dust into the Ottawa river a variety of new industries subsisting on it are likely to grow up.

large one, but not big enough to hold both Jonas and Zeitz, and Jonas had the biggest reputation. And that is why Jonas remains and Zeitz goes.

When the episode of a few days ago came to the ears of the directors, there was a hurried meeting, and it was decided to get a divorce between Prof. Zeitz and the school. But the contracts for the coming year had just been signed during the previous week, and Prof. Zeitz was in a position to fling defiantly in the faces of the directors the document that bound them. Then they offered him $150 to annul the contract.

In the meantime Mr. Zeitz had been to see his attorneys, who advised him that not only could the board be held for his next year's pay, but that an action would lie against those who hired him to conduct the Choral union during the absence of Prof. Stanley, and that the latter had always received $400 or $500 for the work.

An earnest consultation was held last evening and this morning, and the result is that the board gives Mr. Zeitz a comfortable money consideration, the amount of which cannot be learned, and a strong recommendation for a position elsewhere. In return, the School of Music gets his resignation.

DESPITE OF TIGHT DRESSES.

PHYSICAL CULTURE TO BE MADE COMPULSORY

FOR FIRST YEAR IN HIGH SCHOOL AND EIGHT GRADE.

The committee on teachers and text books of the school board last night recommended that $200 be voted for physical culture for students of the high school and eighth grade, with Miss Helen Bender, assistant in physical culture in the University, as instructor for two hours per day.

Every member of the board seemed heartily in accord with the idea. The first idea was to confine the instruction to the girls and the younger boys. But the sentiment of the board seemed to be so unanimous that it would be best for all, so that a line had to be drawn somewhere on account of limited facilities, and it was finally agreed that the work should be made compulsory for all students of the first year of the high school and the eighth grade, with the provision that the superintendent could use his discretion about excusing the older pupils of the classes from being included in the rule.

The idea prevailed that it was best to start in on this schedule. Said Supt. Slauson: "At the outset there will be opposition from the girls. If not, Ann Arbor will be different from other places. It is much wiser to begin small and show good results than to attempt too much and fail. The girls' dresses will not be suitable to what they will be obliged to undergo, and they will go home and complain. The result will be that their parents will want them excused."

Mr. Eberbach—"I don't see what objection there would be if this is on the line of health, unless the girls' dresses would split."

Mr. Mills—"Or unless the girls were wearing corsets two or three sizes too small for them."

SEVENTY-TWO GRADUATES.

Supt. Slauson reported to the board that there would, in all probability, be 72 graduates this year. He held in his hand a high school catalogue and turned to the pages of seniors, from which it was seen that about 15 had been scratched from the list. "There is a possibility of two or three more being added," said he.

GOT THROUGH NURSING.

Madam President Bach reported to the board that there was a new fangled water faucet invented for school purposes which would not require a cup. "I think it is a shame," said she, "that all the children have got to drink out of the same cup. All they have got to do is to go to the faucet and drink." "I thought the school children were above nursing age," said Evert Scott. "Oh, my," said President Bach, "this is different. The water runs in such a way that the children can drink easily and still not have to use a cup. Dr. Mosher has sent for one and thinks it is a fine idea."

It was decided to await the arrival of the new apparatus ordered by Dr. Mosher.

The resignation of Miss Lucy K. Cole was accepted, she having decided to

The Committee on Teachers and Text Books recommend that Frank E. Bryant be elected for the English work at $500 per year.

That $200 be devoted for instruction in physical culture.

That the resignation of Miss Lucy Cole as teacher of music be accepted, and that Miss Florence Potter be elected in her place at an annual salary of $400.

Upon motion of Trustee Mack, the report and recommendations were accepted and adopted.

Upon motion of Trustee Eberbach, work in physical culture was made compulsory for students in the eighth grade and first year in the high school, excepting for students over the average age, who may be excused at the discretion of the superintendent.

The Library Committee reported that the library would be kept open two afternoons a week (Mondays and Thursdays) during the summer vacation.

The secretary reported the balance to the credit of the board at the F. & M. bank at close of business June 13th, as $795.57.

Upon motion of Trustee Mills, the board accepted the proposition of the "High School Breeze" for the insertion of a page advertisement of the high school for $5.00.

Upon motion of Trustee Mills, the board appropriated $25.00 for music for commencement week.

The president reported a request for the teaching of typewriting in the commercial department.

Upon motion of Trustee Eberbach, the matter was referred to the Committee on Teachers and Text Books.

Superintendent Slauson read the names of seventy-two (72) pupils recommended for diplomas of graduation, and upon the report of Trustee Scott, the superintendent was authorized to issue diplomas of graduation to all pupils who pass satisfactory examinations.

Superintendent Slauson called attention to the urgent need for a study room at the high school.

Upon motion of Trustee Bower, the board adjourned to meet Tuesday, June 27th, at 7:30 p. m., to consider Supt. Slauson's report and recommendation.

ANOTHER INSTANCE OF THE NERVE OF TRAMPS.

Here is another instance of the nerve of hoboes.

Night before last when Mr. Helber, a driver for Wm. Rhode, was coming into the barn on Chapin st., two tramps ordered him to keep away. The bums stood on guard and evidently meant what they said.

Mr. Helber complied and he was not molested, but it seems that nothing about the premises was stolen.

TAPPAN OAK A GIBBET.

CLASS OF '99 HUNG IN EFFIGY LAST NIGHT

BY THE JUNIOR LITS AND WAR IS DECLARED.

War is declared, notwithstanding the peace congress at The Hague.

Persons going through the campus this morning were surprised to see dangled from the limbs of Tappan oak an effigy representing the class of '99, the historic old tree being used as a gibbet to carry out the animosity of the junior lits.

The figure was extremely life-like, and upon the shirt appeared in large numerals "99." Upon the right leg of the dummy was chalked, "To H—I," and upon the left "With '99." The work was done by the junior lits at midnight last night.

About 9 o'clock Mr. Reeves, the custodian of buildings and grounds, discovered the lynching and, cutting the figure down, dragged it through the campus and placed it where it could not be seen.

To say that the seniors are incensed is putting it mildly, and already efforts are being made to discover the offending juniors. It is said that it will go hard with any one who is detected as having participated in the "joke," and tonight is liable to see a very merry time.

If anything is done to the juniors the latter will retaliate on Friday night, when those about to take diplomas will hold a farewell smoker.

But war is inevitable.

THE GREAT ARLIE LATHAM MAY UMPIRE THE GAMES.

For the Michigan-Cornell baseball games at Ann Arbor Friday and Grand Rapids Saturday, President Nick Young, of the National league, will supply the umpire. He has written to Graduate Manager Baird, of Michigan, that there is no National league man in the west available for the job just now, and he will have to send a man from the east. This will cost the management about $75 for umpiring two games. Arlie Latham has been doing some very satisfactory umpiring of college games the present season, and may be sent out there.

It is thought that 100 or more Detroiters will come out. The Cornell alumni in Toledo have wired that they are coming up in a body. A message from a Cornell alumnus in Chicago, Davis, who was Cornell's baseball manager in '96, says he will bring a party from there.

New Use for a Church Spire.

It has been decided to establish a meteorological observatory at the top of the great cathedral spire in Ulm, Germany. The Ulm cathedral is one of the most extraordinary in existence on account of the great size and height of its single spire, which reaches an elevation of 523 feet. Although the great church was begun more than five hundred years ago, the spire was not completed until 1890.

Within the last ninety-five years the population of Belgium has doubled itself, rising from 3,000,000 to 6,000,000. But the records of the larger cities make a still more interesting showing. Antwerp in a century has risen from 53,000 to 257,000, an increase of 383 per cent; Liege has advanced from 46,000 to 160,000; Ghent from 55,000 to 155,000, and Brussels from 66,000 to 187,000.

Risks of Telephone Speaking.

Beware of the unwashed telephone. It is a constant menace to the public health. A bacteriologist tells us that more cases of influenza have been coughed, spluttered and sneezed into the telephone, to be contracted by the next user of the instrument, than have proceeded from all other sources combined. Our informant visited several hotels, and also a number of public telephone exchanges. He carried with him some wire and clean cotton. He mounted the cotton on a piece of wire and rubbed it around the inside of the mouthpiece of the telephone receiver. These were each placed in a small bottle and carefully sealed. The first cotton ball examined revealed a multitude of the influenza bacilli, and it was so with the scrapings from all of the telephones. It is thus quite plain that the wide prevalence of the disease is partly due to the use of infected telephones. It is known that the germs are contained in the secretions, and nothing is more natural than that they should reach the receivers.—Science Sitings.

A Great Planet on Exhibition.

There will be fine opportunities during the coming summer for amateurs in astronomy to view the planet Jupiter. In June Jupiter will be near the meridian, or noon line, about 9 o'clock in the evening, and no star will equal him in brilliancy. Even an opera glass will suffice to show one or more of his moons, when they are favorably situated, and a pocket telescope will occasionally show all four. An excellent opportunity of this kind will occur on the night of June 1, about 10:30 o'clock, eastern time, when two of the moons will be seen, one above the other, west of the planet, while the other two are strung out, at a greater distance, on the east side. The very next night, at the same hour, a most interesting arrangement of moons will be visible, for then all four will appear in a row east of the planet, standing in the order of their true distances from Jupiter, beginning with number one at the inner end of the row, and finishing with number four at the outer end.

Electric Bells Rang by the Sun.

Prof. Torvald Kohl of the Odder observatory, Denmark, reports that when the great sun spot of September last was crossing the solar meridian, magnificent auroral lights flashed across the heavens and the electric bells in the great telegraph station at Frederic rang without any visible cause. The telegraphic service in Denmark was disturbed for hours during the auroral display. Prof. Kohl thinks that the agency of the sun in producing the phenomena was evident. Similar exhibitions of "wireless telegraphy" between the sun and the earth have been noted in the past.

THE CIRCUS AND THE PRESS.

Newspapers are sometimes deceived about the character of some amusement institution that intends visiting their place, and are led to commend it to their readers when the show is not worthy. But they never say anything erroneous of an entertainment when it has been witnessed; then the newspaper testimony may be depended on.

With this in mind, one who reads papers from other places soon becomes convinced that the Great Wallace Show is really the "greatest on earth." Our exchanges where it has exhibited are unanimous in declaring it first-class in every detail. Columns are devoted to it, and the universal verdict is "honestly advertised and honorably conducted." It is said to come up entirely to its advertisements, which are considered as pledges and are faithfully fulfilled.

Gives two grand performances at Ann Arbor on Monday, June 19.

That Well Dressed Feeling

Comes as a natural result of wearing the clothing we sell. The maker of that clothing have solved the problems of how to turn out large quantities of garments that have ALL the attributes of first-class custom work. Indeed it is only the best merchant tailors who can rival the Quality, Style and fit of "ADLER" ready-made and to do this they must charge nearly or quite double the price.

If you will call we shall take pleasure in showing you the new Suits and Top Coats from this celebrated house, and explaining their many points of superiority.

Gas. Satisfaction!

What a comfort it is to a good cook to KNOW that the function of a gas range, heat, can be controlled as easily as the amount of flour can be increased.

If the best heat is right, chances are the rest will be. Gas in a range insures proper heat. A turn of the lever controls it the same as the throttle of a locomotive controls the speed of the train.

This trusting in Providence that the stove will act all right is one trust not in the gas business.

42ND ANNUAL MEETING.

Yesterday afternoon at the Episcopal church house was held the forty-second annual meeting of the Ypsilanti Home association, an association of the greatest importance in the charitable work of the city, but which conducts its operations so quietly that many are totally unaware of its existence. The society is without denomination or sect, and is designed to personally carry out charitable work left undone by the churches and the city government.

The meeting was called together at 4 o'clock by the president, Mrs. John Gilbert, and opened by the singing of the hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," a selection which has by custom been made sacred to this society. Following the reading of the minutes of the previous annual meeting, held in the Methodist church, the reports of the retiring officers were given. Mrs. Flor-ina Yost, the secretary, took as the subject of the topic which she discussed
in her report, "Abuses in Charitable Institutions, and Their Remedies." Mrs.
Yost dwelt at some length upon the origin and growth of charitable societies, and pointed out how at times abuses creep into them. She showed that these errors are of three natures, consisting first in keeping large sums
of society money in the treasury and
by their manipulation reaping individual gain; secondly, putting the money to other than the exact uses intended by the donors; and, thirdly, rushing into debt for the sake of external show. Mrs. Yost's paper revealed considerable research and much care in its preparation, and was of interest as pointing out possible dangers in the path of such societies.

The annual report of Miss Abba Van
Fossen, treasurer, brought out the fact that the association has passed through
an unusually successful year. $106.54
have been taken in during the year,
$97.25 have been disbursed, thus leaving in the treasury a balance of $9.29. As stated by Miss Van Fossen, these figures fall utterly to convey an idea of the importance of the society or the great work it is accomplishing among the city's poor, as the money, food and clothing dispensed have relieved numberless families from absolute want,
have gladdened the hearts of many cast down by poverty and misfortune, and
have made it possible for children to continue the education which would otherwise have been by necessity discontinued that they might become bread winners. The intention of the society is to end the year with an empty treasury, the balance of $9.29 now on hand being caused by a number of
subscriptions having been paid in since
the close of the winter's work.

In her annual report the president,
Mrs. Gilbert, reviewed briefly the four annual meetings, held respectively on
the tenth, twentieth, thirtieth and fortieth anniversaries. The progress of the organization between these dates
was pointed out, and it was shown how
from a society for the furtherance of
mission work in New York and Detroit,
it has gradually grown into a strictly
home affair. Mrs. Gilbert concluded
by reading the reports of those ladies
who have been actively concerned in the distributions of the society's blessings. During the intermissions between the rendering of the reports, Miss Grace Gates, of the Conservatory, assisted by Miss Alice Lowden, as accompanist,
sang two sacred solos.

The business meeting closed with the election of officers, which resulted in
the entire number of past dignitaries
being reinstated. They are as follows:
President (for the twenty-fifth time),
Mrs. Gilbert; first vice-president, Miss
Weed; second vice-president, Mrs.
Fairfield; third vice-president, Mrs.
Horace Dickinson; secretary, Mrs.
Florina Yost; treasurer, Miss Abba VanFossen.

Upon the termination of the business
of the meeting, the company adjourned
to the parlors, where an excellent supper was served. When full justice to the viands had been met out, Rev.
William Gardam, as toastmaster, introduced a number of the guests for short speeches. These were as follows:
Prof. Plutus Barbour, "The Relation of the Home Association to the other societies of the city"; Rev. R. K. Wharton, "The mission of the association as set forth in 1st Corinthians, 13:13"; Supt. Austin George, "The importance
of training children in the object of benevolence"; Major J. P. Kirk, "The army and the Red Cross"; Rev. C. T.
Allen, "Charity and Christian unity." In illustrating this talk Rev. C. T. Allen recited a beautiful poem of a few stanzas which he recently composed on
the lesson of the recent war with Spain.
The company adjourned upon the pronunciation of the benediction by the Rev. B. F. Aldrich.

SPINDLER TO GO.

The Times has been assured on unquestionable authority that notwithstanding statements to the contrary from other sources, the state board of education has called for the resignation of F. N. Spindler from the position of assistant in pedagogy at the Normal.
A change is contemplated in the in-being deemed advisable to abolish the office of "professor of pedagogy," and in its stead entrust the work to a sen-

THE OLD WAY

Treating Dyspepsia and Indigestion
By Dieting a Dangerous and Useless One.

What the old way, but really it is a very common one at the present time, and many dyspeptics and physicians as well consider the first step to take in attempting to cure indigestion is to diet, either by selecting certain foods and rejecting others or to greatly diminish the quantity usually taken, in other words the starvation plan is supported by many to be the first essential.
The almost certain failure of the starvation cure has been proven time and again, but still the morden dyspepsia makes its appearance a course of dieting is at once advised.

All this is radically wrong. It is foolish and unscientific to recommend dieting to a man suffering from dyspepsia, because indigestion itself starves every organ, every nerve and every fibre in
the body.

What the dyspeptic wants is abundant nutrition, which means plenty of good, wholesome, well cooked food, and
something to assist the weak stomach
to digest it. This is exactly the purpose for which Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are adapted, and this is the method by which they cure the worst cases of dyspepsia, in other words the patient eats plenty of wholesome food and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest it for him. In this way the system is nourished and the overworked stomach
rested, because the tablets will digest
the food whether the stomach works or
not. One of these tablets will digest
3,000 grains of meat or eggs.

Your druggist will tell you that Stuart's Tablets is the purest and safest remedy for stomach troubles, and every trial makes one more friend for this excellent preparation. Sold at 50 cents for full sized package at all drug stores.

Piquart a Free Man.

Paris, June 14.—The chamber of indictments decided that there is no case against Lieut. Col. Piquart, charged with forgery in the Dreyfus case, or
against Maitre Leblois, his counsel,
against whom charges were also made
in connection with the case.

The judgment of the court thus finally exonerates Piquart, who was released from prison June 9, after being nearly a year in confinement, as the court declares the charges against Piquart and Leblois are entirely incompatible with the judgment recently rendered by the court of cassation, and
that, therefore, there is no case against
them.

The Iron Hand of Rheumatism

Rheumatism can easily be compared to an immense iron hand, which clutches the sufferer in a rigid grasp, prevents him from stirring hand or foot, and tortures him with a persistent agony equal to that of a Spanish inquisition.

Ath-lo-pho-ro-s, the greatest discovery in medical science, removes the iron grip of Rheumatism and Neuralgia.
The pain is stopped and the patient is
put upon his feet. Ath-lo-pho-ro-s cures
all forms of Rheumatism and Neuralgia
by completely expelling all uric acid poison from the blood. Its action is gentle, and it leaves no depression.

Urichville, O., Aug. 30, 1898.
I must say in regard to Athlopho-
ros that I don't know what would
have become of me if a friend had not introduced it into my family. I have taken not quite two bottles and its work is a miracle. I could not turn in bed, raise my arm, or scarcely move in any way for about four weeks, and now I am able to be doing my own work. I was troubled with the plague about three months before
I found there was such a relief.

Yours truly,

POLICE ACT VIGOROUSLY.

Cars are Run at Cleveland Under Strong Guard—No Crowds Allowed to Gather.

Cleveland, O., June 14.—The officials of the big consolidated railroad company were evidently surprised Tuesday by the success which attended the effort to move their cars. While every car on Monday was surrounded by a howling mob there was no disturbance
of any kind Tuesday. While this was due in part to the vigilance of the police, who prevented the assembling of crowds, it was mainly attributable to the fact that the strikers made no effort to induce nonunion men to quit.

Many cases of charbon are reported from

The Markert & Co.'s big brewery at Wilmington, Ill., has burned, the building and

covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown.

ing in a small house in Jerusalem township,
about 12 miles from Toledo, O., was found dead by his neighbors. He had been shot

that the bullet came from the outside.
The motive is presumed to have been robbery, as Shottfield was reputed to have large sums of money.

THE PEACE CONFERENCE.

Red Cross Subcommittee Makes a Highly Important Advance—
Position of Germany.

The Hague, June 14.—The Red Cross subcommittee of the peace conference has reported in favor of applying the Geneva convention to naval warfare.
This is regarded as a highly important
advance.

The adaptation of the principles of
the Geneva convention to naval warfare
is regarded as the first real achievement
of the conference.

In view of the statement published in the United States that Mr. Frederick Holls, of the American delegation to the peace conference, had cabled to the state department at Washington that Germany was opposed to arbitration in principle a correspondent called upon
Mr. Holls, who declared there was absolutely no foundation for such a statement. He said that, as a matter of fact, he had not sent the state department a message of any kind since his arrival here, and the cable message forwarded by the delegation had not contained the least justification for the statement published. He said:

"There is another story which is quite
as false and which, in the United States,
may be even more mischievous. I mean
the absurd story that we have abandoned
the American plan for a permanent arbitration board. The delegation, therefore,
has prepared the following statement:

"In view of the misleading statements
published in America regarding the course of the drafting committee of the arbitration committee and the exact position of the American proposals, you may say that the American plan for a permanent tribunal, which has been correctly set forth in the American papers, has been referred, with other similar plans,
to the drafting committee. This committee will report to the full commission on arbitration the exact text of the American proposals as submitted, and also the exact text of all other proposals submitted, as the drafting committee shall provisionally recommend. The commission will finally pass on the various projects. The fact that in the drafting committee the English proposals have been used as the basis of discussion does not indicate in the least the abandonment of any other plans.
It is not expected that the drafting committee will be ready to report to the commission on arbitration for a week or ten days; and all statements regarding its
work or attitude are mere surmise."

The last of the Conservatory senior concerts was given in Normal hall last evening by Miss Marie Harlow, soprano, and Minnie Caldwell, organist, assisted by Prof. F. H. Pease, accompanist, and the Normal choir. Miss Harlow is one of the most promising vocalists of the graduating class, and it was at her best that she appeared last evening. Her voice is clear and of considerable volume, and is skillfully controlled. The feature of the program was her rendition of Rossini's
"Inflammatus," with choir accompaniment.
An aria from Von Weber's opera,
"Die Freischuetz," and a group of four ballads by Schumann were very artistically rendered. Miss Caldwell pleased most in Guilmant's "Mendel-

What you want is not temporary relief from piles, but a cure to stay cured.

subject of the topic which she discussed
in her report, "Abuses in Charitable Institutions, and Their Remedy." Mrs.
Yost dwelt at some length upon the
origin and growth of charitable societies, and pointed out how at times abuses creep into them. She showed that these errors are of three natures,
consisting first in keeping large sums
of society money in the treasury and
by their manipulation reaping individual gain; secondly, putting the money to other than the exact uses intended by the donors; and, thirdly, rushing into debt for the sake of external show. Mrs. Yost's paper revealed considerable research and much care in its preparation, and was of interest as pointing out possible dangers in the path of such societies.

The annual report of Miss Abba Van
Fossen, treasurer, brought out the fact
that the association has passed through
an unusually successful year; $106.54
have been taken in during the year,
$97.25 have been disbursed, thus leaving
in the treasury a balance of $9.29. As stated by Miss Van Fossen, these figures fall utterly to convey an idea of the importance of the society or the great work it is accomplishing among the city's poor, as the money, food and clothing dispensed have relieved numerous families from absolute want, have gladdened the hearts of many cast
down by poverty and misfortune, and
have made it possible for children to continue the educations which would otherwise have been by necessity discontinued that they might become bread winners. The intention of the society is to end the year with an empty treasury, the balance of $9.29 now
on hand being caused by a number of
subscriptions having been paid in since
the close of the winter's work.

In her annual report the president,
Mrs. Gilbert, reviewed briefly the four
annual meetings, held respectively on
the tenth, twentieth, thirtieth and fortieth anniversaries. The progress of the organization between these dates
was pointed out, and it was shown how
from a society for the furtherance of
mission work in New York and Detroit,
it has gradually grown into a strictly
home affair. Mrs. Gilbert concluded
by reading the reports of those ladies
who have been actively concerned in
the distributions of the society's blessings.
During the intermissions between the rendering of the reports, Miss Grace
Gates, of the Conservatory, assisted by Miss Alice Lowden, as accompanist,
sang two sacred solos.

The business meeting closed with the election of officers, which resulted in
the entire number of past dignitaries
being reinstated. They are as follows:
President (for the twenty-fifth time),
Mrs. Gilbert; first vice-president, Miss Veel; second vice-president, Mrs.
Fairfield; third vice-president, Mrs.
Hector Dickinson; secretary, Mrs.
Florine Yost; treasurer, Miss Abba
VanFossen.

Upon the termination of the business
of the meeting, the company adjourned
to the parlors, where an excellent supper was served. When full justice to the table had been meted out, Rev.
William Gardner, toasting the occasion, introduced a number of the guests for
short speeches. These were as follows:
Prof. Florus Barbour, "The Relation of the Home Association to the other societies of the city"; Rev. R. K. Wharton,
"The mission of the association as set forth in 1st Corinthians, 12:12"; Supt. Austin George, "The importance
of training children in the object of benevolences"; Major J. P. Kirk, "The
army and the Red Cross"; Rev. C. T.
Allen, "Charity and Christian unity."
In illustrating this talk, Rev. C. T. Allen recited a beautiful poem of a few stanzas which he recently composed on
the lesson of the recent war with Spain.
The company adjourned upon the pronouncement of the benediction by the Rev. B. F. Aldrich.

diets is at once advised.
All this is radically wrong. It is foolish and unscientific to recommend dieting
to a man suffering from dyspepsia,
because indigestion itself starves every
organ, every nerve and every fibre in
the body.

What the dyspeptic wants is abundant nutrition, which means plenty of
good, wholesome, well cooked food, and
something to assist the weak stomach
in digesting it. This is exactly the purpose for which Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are adapted, and this is the method by which they cure the worst cases of dyspepsia, in other words the patient eats plenty of wholesome food and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest it
for him. In this way the system is
nourished and the overworked stomach
rested, because the tablets will digest
the food whether the stomach works or
not. One of these tablets will digest
3,000 grains of meat or eggs.

Your druggist will tell you that Stuart's
Dyspepsia Tablets are the best remedy for stomach troubles, and every
trial makes one more friend for this
excellent preparation. Sold at 50 cents
for full sized package at all drug
stores.

Picquart a Free Man.
Paris, June 14.—The chamber of indictments decided that there is no case against Lieut. Col. Picquart, charged with forgery in the Dreyfus case, or
against Maitre Leblois, his counsel,
against whom charges were also made
in connection with the case.

The judgment of the court thus finally exonerates Picquart, who was released
nearly a year in confinement, as the
court declares the charges against Picquart and Leblois are entirely incompatible with the judgment recently
rendered by the court of cassation, and
them.

The Iron Hand of Rheumatism Rheumatism can easily be compared to
an immense iron hand, which clutches the sufferer in a rigid grasp, prevents him from stirring hand or foot, and tortures him with a persistence equal to that of a Spanish inquisition.

Ath-lo-pho-ros, the greatest discovery in medical science, removes the iron
grip of Rheumatism and neuralgia.
The pain is stopped and the patient is
put upon his feet. Ath-lo-pho-ros cures
all forms of Rheumatism and Neuralgia
by completely expelling all uric acid
poison from the blood. Its action is gentle, and it leaves no depression.

Urichville, O., Aug. 30, 1893.
I must say in regard to Athlopho-
ros that I don't know what would
have become of me if a friend had not
introduced it into my family. I have taken two bottles and its work is a miracle. I could not turn in bed, raise my arm, or scarcely move in any way for about four weeks, and now I am able to be doing my own work. I was troubled with the plague about three months before I found there was such a relief.

Yours truly,

POLICE ACT VIGOROUSLY.
Cars Are Run at Cleveland Under Strong Guard—No Crowds Allowed to Gather.

Cleveland, O., June 14.—The officials of the big consolidated railroad company were evidently surprised Tuesday by the success which attended the effort to move their cars. While every car on Monday was surrounded by a howling mob there was no disturbance
of any kind Tuesday. While this was due in part to the vigilance of the police, who prevented the assembling of
crowds, it was mainly attributable to the fact that the strikers made no effort to induce nonunion men to quit.
In fact the strikers remained away from the cars, and they were operated on one line at intervals of about 30 minutes, carrying a few passengers during the latter part of the day.

There is a feeling on the part of the members of the state board of arbitration that they can bring about a settlement of the differences in spite of the declaration of the directors of the company that they would not arbitrate the main question at issue—the recognition of the union. It is stated that the strikers are willing to waive the two sections of their proposed agreement with the company, which give the union the right to demand the discharge of men and compel the company to force men to join the union within 60 days after they are employed.

Uncle Sam Had No Objections.
Washington, June 14.—It definitely developed Tuesday that opinions were exchanged between the governments of the United States and Germany some time ago relative to Germany securing the Caroline, Ladrone and Pelew islands.
In this exchange of opinion the most friendly sentiments were expressed,
and there was no suggestion that Germany's course in acquiring the islands was viewed with doubt or disapproval
by the United States government.

sections of Louisiana, and the disease

The Markert & Co.'s big brewery at Wilmington, Ill., has burned, the building and contents being totally destroyed. The machinery was of the latest pattern. The loss is placed close to $100,000, two-thirds covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Holman Shotfield, a hermit aged 60, living in a small house in Jerusalem township,
about 12 miles from Toledo, O., was found
dead by his neighbors. He had been shot in the head, a hole in the window showing
that the bullet came from the outside.
It is presumed he had been shot in a robbery, as Shotfield was reputed to have
large sums of money.

A cable dispatch from Gen. Otis relative to the departure of the Second Oregon states that the regiment will be taken to San Francisco first, for the reason that one ship could not carry all of them and it was desirable to send with the two ships, sick and wounded soldiers, a detachment of the signal corps and others who were homeward bound.

THE PEACE CONFERENCE.
Red Cross Subcommittee Makes a
Highly Important Advance—
Position of Germany.

The League, June 14.—The Red Cross subcommittee of the peace conference has reported in favor of applying the Geneva convention to naval warfare.
This is regarded as a highly important
advance.

The adaptation of the principles of
the Geneva convention to naval warfare
is regarded as the first real achievement
of the conference.

In view of the statement published
in the United States that Mr. Frederick Holls, of the American delegation to the
peace conference, had cabled to the state department at Washington that Germany was opposed to arbitration in
principle a correspondent called upon
Mr. Holls, who declared there was absolutely no foundation for such a statement.
He said that, as a matter of fact, he had not sent the state department a message of any kind since his arrival here, and the cable message forwarded by the delegation had not contained the least justification for the statement published. He said:

"There is another story which is quite
as false and which, in the United States,
may be even more mischievous. I mean
the absurd story that we have abandoned
the American plan for a permanent arbitration board. The delegation, therefore,
has prepared the following statement:
"In view of the misleading statements
published in America regarding the course of the drafting committee of the arbitration committee and the exact position of the American proposals, you may say that the American plan for a permanent tribunal, which has been correctly set forth in the American papers, has been referred, with other similar plans, to the drafting committee. This committee will report to the full commission on arbitration the exact text of the American proposals as submitted, and also the exact text of all other proposals submitted, as the drafting committee shall provisionally recommend. The commission on arbitration and afterward the conference will finally pass on the various projects. The fact that in the drafting committee the English proposals have been used as the basis of discussion does not indicate in the
least the abandonment of any other plans.
It is not expected that the drafting committee will be ready to report to the commission on arbitration for a week or ten days; and all statements regarding its
work or attitude are mere surmise."
